Fred Redgwell Of Bank Of Montreal Staff Transferred To Ponoka

Had Been Here Seven Years

It was with considerable regret that it was learned on Saturday that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Redgwell were leaving for their new home in the town of Ponoka.

Fred came to Wainwright in November 1927 to occupy the position of Accountant of the Bank of Montreal which he has filled very efficiently ever since.

During his seven years in town he was quite popular among the young people of town. He was a member of several of the local lodges in which he took an active part, and from whose ranks he will be sadly missed.

Mr. Redgwell was a member of the United Church, in which he took an active part, being one of the Officers for the greater part of his stay here.

Mrs. Redgwell is also very well known to the young people of the town. She taught high school here for about four years before her marriage and as a teacher was very highly thought of, in fact many of the young people owe much to her in their high school work.

Mrs. and Mrs. Redgwell were married last summer holidays and have since resided in town.

The Record joins with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Redgwell every success in their new home.

Mr. Redgwell's successor is Mr. J. G. Simpson, who has been away on sick leave but is expected to take over his new duties about the end of this week.

On The Hack

The consolation event of the Bonspiel was concluded this week on an ice surface that was almost perfect.

Those reaching the four in this event were Mills, McBride, Forbes & Hedlund. Mills defeated McBride and Forbes came out on the long end against Hedlund. This left Mills and Forbes in the final which made a very interesting game. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way which Mills finally won in the dying moments of the game.

The Teat Pot Event, which was a club rink competition for the Grand Aggregate prize also created a lot of interest during the week. Washburn and Agnew ousted their way to the finals of this event which was played on Saturday evening. Agnew won the Teat Pot, Washburn taking second, Stuart third and Boverman fourth.

It looks now as though all the curlers have to do pack their rocks away in the old moth balls and devote their attention to adding another sheet of ice to their rink over next December.

Well it was "Just Too Bad" that the Bonspiel wasn't postponed for five days, but lets hope we hit colder weather next year. Here's hoping we do.

way interfere with the Dominion Day celebration of the town and that the promoters of the stampede would later communicate with Council in this connection and, on motion, the report of the committee was accepted.

Councillor Billing gave notice that, at the next regular meeting of Council, he will move the introduction of a By-Law to amend By-Law No. 207 by striking from the said By-Law the following words, where they occur in the said By-Law, viz:

"At the time of application for such license, every person so applying shall pay to the town for such license to sell milk and cream the sum of $50.00, provided that if such application be for a license to sell cream only the fee therefor shall be the sum of $10.00."

and by substituting for the words so struck out the words following, that is to say:

"At the time of application for license to sell milk, every person so applying shall pay to the Town a license fee of Three Dollars ($3.00) for the first cow and one dollar ($1.00) for each additional cow from which milk is to be supplied by such person for the year in which the application is made, provided that the maximum fee shall in no case exceed Fifteen Dollars ($15.00), and at the time of application for a license to sell cream, irrespective of whether the applicant has or has not a license to sell milk, every person so applying shall pay to the Town a license fee of Five Dollars ($5.00)."

On motion, Council was regularly adjourned.

Mr. Ayres, of Camrose, was a business visitor at the Progress Lumber Company Office last week.

Former Resident Of Town Dies In Edmonton

Ida Agnes Stott, beloved wife of W. G. Stott, 11519 89 st., passed away in an Edmonton hospital on March 7, aged 69 years. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Knuds Guard of Edmonton, one brother, A. J. Honey of Vancouver, B.C. and two sisters, Mrs. George Bickle of Bowmanville, Ontario, and Mrs. W. F. The late Mrs. Stott will be remembered by many as an oldtimer of the Wainwright district, having lived in and near this town for upwards of ten years.

Born in Ontario, where she spent her girlhood, she married Mr. W. G. Stott and later moved west. In 1908 they settled on a homestead about four miles south of town and for the next ten years they lived here, moving to Edmonton in 1918 where they had since made their home.

Two children, Frank and Rhoda, blessed the union. Frank resided in Wainwright until his death in January 1st, 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Stott had celebrated their golden wedding over a year ago.

Mrs. Stott was a member of Norwood United Church, Edmonton.

Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Louise Stott and other friends in their bereavement.

Navy Pictures Prove Interesting

On Monday night the Masonic Hall was filled to capacity when the pictures sponsored by the Wainwright Branch of the Canadian Legion were shown. The two sets of slides "The History of the British Navy" and "The British Navy in the Great War" were brought to Wainwright by R. G. Robertson, who gave the accompanying address and some interesting explanations from his own experiences, while Father McGrane operated the lantern. Father McGrane also showed some pictures taken by him in France and England and his old home in Ireland.

The large crowd was keenly interested and Mr. Robertson and Father McGrane were complimented by many before leaving.

Plan 15 to 20 New Oil Wells In Local Fields

New Refinery Under Construction

A drilling program that will mean from 15 to 20 new wells in the Wainwright field this season is planned by the newly formed Gold Standard Oils, Limited, of which H. W. Wright of Toronto is president, according to reports in oil circles here. Three drilling rigs are expected to be in operation at an early date.

M. R. Cowell, of Toronto, managing director of the company, was in the city some days ago, when he conferred with Edmonton oil men and officials of the department of lands and mines. The solicitors for the company are Parlee, Freeman Smith and Massey.

While here, Mr. Cowell expressed great optimism in the future of the Fabyan-Wainwright field. He said that Mr. Wright, who also is vice-president of Lane Shore Mines and Wright-Hargreaves Mines, was giving the new undertaking enthusiastic and wholehearted support.

The construction of a new oil refinery at Wainwright, with a flush capacity of 500 barrels per day, also has been undertaken by Gold Standard Oils. The hole dehydrating process will be utilized in this plant, ensuring high standard refined products.

The erection of this plant has been under the supervision of Petroleum and Refinery Engineers. I. M. Hole of this firm is now at Wainwright superintending the completion of plant installation and will remain in charge of refinery operations until April 15.

EDGERTON RIPPLES

Mild Weather has placed the word "fni" on the ice at the Curling Rink for this year. It is threatening snow as I write, and winter may not be so severe.

Rev. W. Bainbridge visited Wainwright last week, attending the sessions in connection with the United Church Presbytery gathering.

A large number gathered in the Edgerton Hall last Thursday for the regular meeting of the Y. P. S. Dr. Aylesworth gave a very interesting talk on Home Health which was enjoyed by all.

A popular dance was held in the Edgerton Hall last Friday. The motive being, as you were 30 years ago. Proceeds were for a fund, now established, to purchase a piano for the local school. Several social functions are being planned in this regard, and it is hoped that a purchase will be made in the near future.

Rev. M. H. Wilson, of Edmonton, was an Edgerton visitor on Saturday.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad, and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip out onto the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Avis is stunned and Camilla's mother likewise. Bowman and Weeks, an advertising agency, where Camilla has submitted some of her work, send her and another girl to make a new account which requires unusual treatment of juvenile art. To Camilla's surprise she learns that the account is that of her foster father's company, which has decided on an extensive campaign to advertise its products. After a conference with Mr. Bowman, Camilla decides to attempt the job. She is enthusiastic about her work, and Mr. Weeks offers her a salary of $50.00 a week to start and a prospect of having it doubled. She goes to keep a dinner engagement with Peter. She tells Peter of her good fortune in securing employment. Mrs. Hoyt is also informed that Camilla has obtained work and is going to leave the Hoyt household.

CHAPTER XXXIV

Peter was taking the stairs two at a time, intent upon returning to his work for the afternoon when he looked up to see a girl unlocking the door across the hall from his own. So, his new neighbor was a girl. His first intention was to ignore her, but curiosity prompted a second glance, and he found himself face to face with Avis Werth. He had not seen stinct. They don't have to be married to understand men," she said. "I maintained that sober, impersonal air of rare wisdom. Then she smiled suddenly and said brightly, 'But you haven't seen my place. It is just finished and I'm rather proud of it.' modestly. 'Please tell me if it looks right.' She had caught his hand as if to lead him across the hall.

Peter drew away. "I'm sorry, I'll have to endure the suspense of waiting until later to see your place. My model will be here any minute and I've got to get to work. I told you I can't be a good neighbor, even."

"Then do come over this evening," she urged hopefully. "Any time you have a minute to relax, drop in. You can't work every minute."

"But I might interrupt your work," he reminded her.

Avis lifted her hands eloquently. "One hour every day without an interruption would seem like a century to me. I can't go into seclusion all of a sudden. Besides, even if I do want to work, I can't take it that seriously. I expect to throw a lot of parties—studio stuff, you know. I'm giving a housewarming soon and you will have to take time out to be there, don't you forget. You and Camilla," she added as an afterthought.

There were footsteps outside, tapping on the stairs and along the hall, and presently Sylvia stood in the doorway. "Hello," she said brightly, after a glance at Avis without recognition.

"Here she is," Peter exclaimed with obvious relief. "My model, Miss Todd. Miss Werth. You may be needing a good model yourself. Now proceed," he advised Sylvia, already busy with arranging his materials.

"Perhaps I can use you sometime," Avis told Sylvia with a patronizing air. "Well, then, I'll run along and let you two get to work. Bye, Peter," she smiled friendly, and scampered out.

"The new neighbor turned out to be an old friend," Peter explained casually.

"That's nice," observed Sylvia. "I don't know that it is so nice," he contradicted. "There is no worse nuisance in the world for a serious artist than a make-believe one who doesn't have to work, but maintains a studio just for effect and a place to entertain. It would be just my luck to get such a neighbor when I am the busiest. I'm afraid she's going to be a pest."

"You don't sound very crazy about her," Sylvia ventured carefully. "She's nothing to me," Peter shrugged. "I said she was a friend. She isn't even that—merely a acquaintance. One of the class at National. It's all the same to me if I never see her again. Fact is, I always made it a point to sleep clear of her when I could. Now she lives across the hall and suggests that I run in to have tea with her," he grimaced. Sylvia laughed with genuine amusement, knowing more about the situation than he was aware. Almost, she was tempted to warn him of Avis' intentions, for her sympathies really were with Peter. But her youthfully acquired sophistication maintained that any man could take care of himself. The chances were ninety-nine to one that any woman got the worst of an affair with any man. This happened to be a rare case in which she wished the man luck, chiefly because he was not the aggressor.

Peter's prognostications proved correct about Avis becoming a nuisance. It was only the second day after their first meeting in the hall when he had made no attempt to respond to her hospitable suggestion to drop in any minute, that she knocked on his door about noon, and this time "Come in," opened it with a merry, "Good morning neighbor. What! at work so early in the morning. Then I guessed it right—you are hungry. I just ran across to invite you over to lunch-breakfast. Tilly has made hot biscuits and a warm drink for you. Not a man living could resist that!"

She was gay, provocative and informal in scarlet satin pajamas embroidered with gold dragons and Oriental characters that no Oriental ever would have recognized or deciphered. But they added their touch of subtle charm and mystery. Her long, narrowly plucked eyebrows that slanted downward at her temples contributed to that effect.

If one analyzed her features according to relation and measurement, Avis was not beautiful, but there was a striking sophistication and allure about her that was a combination of beauty culture, the confidence of wealth and a selfish assumption that whatever she desired was hers.

Medical Insurance Plan

Alberta Commission Investigates Possibilities of State Medical Service

An ultimate $10,608,000 municipal medical insurance scheme for the province is recommended in a report tabled in the Alberta legislature by a commission named in 1932 to investigate the possibilities of a general medical insurance plan.

For frontier districts the commission recommends a state subsidized doctor who would be assisted by a nurse. In some of these sections a nurse might assist the doctor, with a travelling clinic available for minor surgery.

The body also reported that it is of the opinion that the existing schedules of fees for surgical and specialized services is too high. For the present, the commission recommends an expansion of the Alberta public health programme, more especially in the control of tuberculosis, extension of public health nursing service, and a re-establishment of a travelling clinic service for those parts of the province where a similar service is not provided.

It also recommends that the minister of health be given statutory authority to constitute areas as full-time health districts, and to determine what proportion of the cost of administration shall be borne locally and what share by the province.

Ancients Were Clever

Made Use Of Many Methods We Consider Fairly New

Indians in Central America used anaesthetics before Columbus made his voyage of discovery, and were acquainted with the fundamentals of mathematics long before white men learned them, according to Mr. Gregory Mason, American explorer and archaeologist. "How many American peoples," Mr. Mason asked, "that the Toltecs built a pyramid three times as great in bulk as the largest in Egypt, and that the Peruvians made tapestries finer than any of Europe, and that the Mayans invented over 600 years before the Hindus—that is, that the Mayans were able to multiply and divide 1,000 years before Europeans could. The red-skinned natives of Yucatan, were better astronomers than the Europeans, and had a calendar far more accurate than the one Columbus was using and in some ways even superior to the one we use today."

Mr. F. C. Elford, Dominion poultry husbandman and past-president of the World's Poultry Congress, has just received, through the efforts of the Canadian trade commissioner at Milan, Mr. Muddiman, a report on the disposal of the Canadian birds that were exhibited at the Congress in Rome last summer. Most of the birds went to the Italian Experiment Station, and it is of interest also to know that Prof. Ghigi, who was the general director of the Congress, selected Canadian birds for their own government purpose. Prof. Ghigi took home a number of breeding pens of Barred Rocks and White Leghorns, from Canada at the time of the 1927 Congress.

THE SPELL

The driving rain has ceased with a cluck. The sky is leaden-hued as day slips into night. No bloom in all the scene to catch the eye.

Same slim flame-faces, scarlet flames and white That lit the glowing hearthfire long ago, and start.

In such an hour at a dull day's close A name denied my lips slips in my heart.

And suddenly the world is touched with rose!

The old enchantment weaves its starry spell In seasons when my spirit is most sore;

A dear, unspoken name and all is well.

A name with power to wake the past once more.

In moment that would else be wholly drear.

A name which brings your fragrant presence near!

New Bird Discovered

Pugnacious Midge Is No Bigger Than Good-Sized Bee

A bird no bigger than a good-sized bee, found in the Haitian highlands, is described in a new publication just issued by Dr. Alexander Wetmore, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. It is known as the Hispaniolan verian hummingbird. In spite of its tiny size it is quite pugnacious as judged most hummingbirds are, and does not hesitate to dart to the attack of birds as big as a mockingbird if it objects to their presence.—Science.

Little Helps For This Week

"Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you, but rejoice inasmuch as you are partakers of Christ's sufferings." 1 Peter 4:12-13.

We take with solemn thankfulness Our burden up, nor ask it less. And count it joy that even we May suffer, serve, or wait for Thee.

Whose will be done. —J. G. Whittier.

Receive every inward and outward trouble, every disappointment, temptation, darkness and desolation with both thy hands as a true opportunity and blessed occasion of dying to self, and entering into a fuller fellowship with thy self-denying, suffering Saviour. Look at no inward or outward trouble with any other thought, and then every kind of trial and distress will become the blessed day of thy prosperity. That state is lost which exercises the highest faith in, and fullest resignation to God.—Wm. Law.

Six Rules To Follow

If your room is too small, you can make it look larger by:

1. Choosing light wall colors, such as cream, primrose, pale blue, and certain shades of very pale green.

2. Using glossy wall treatments, such as varnish over distemper, or a new wax paint that dries with a glassy surface.

3. If having wall-paper, selecting one of indelicate pattern in subdued shades.

4. Painting the wood work the same color as the walls, or one tone deeper.

5. Keeping to plain colors for curtain and covers.

6. Having only essential pieces of furniture of simple line and a few carefully hung pictures of modern size. A well-placed mirror gives space and life to a small room, and wall or table lamp are better than a centre light.

Soil For Apple Trees

Soil requirements are very different for apple trees in the East and in the West of Canada. While Eastern orchardists desire gravelly subsoil to facilitate drainage, Western growers desire a deep sub-soil moderately heavy and retentive of moisture. Where Eastern growers desire to drain off excess water, Western growers attempt to conserve it.

SPEAK UP OR YOU'LL NEVER BE HEARD

When posterity inherits all the debts, we imagine it is going to be the end of Ancestor Worship.—The Montreal Star.

The Prime Minister on several occasions has stressed the vastness of Canada's debts and given warning that the Government cannot spend millions of dollars on unlimited public works as a means of "speeding recovery."

Speaking in Toronto to an audience of businessmen, Mr. Bennett stated that they themselves (as part of the public) were responsible for hugeness of the country's expenditures because of their insistence on this, that and the other service.

There was an outburst of applause. Mr. Bennett was surprised.

Of course what Mr. Bennett told those Toronto businessmen was correct. A great many costly Government services came into being because of the desire of certain sections of the populace to be mothered and fathered at public expense.

But it is especially true that the politicians have cultivated these services in order that there might be sufficient plums with which to reward the election efforts of their henchmen.

One businessman, C. H. Carlisle, has stated:

"I have no hesitation in saying that a great bulk of our national indebtedness today is due to price we paid for politicians and political parties, and not for government."

The result is that in the past fifty years the number employed by our Dominion Provincial, and Municipal departments has increased 1,567 per cent. Outside of the business of governments, employment has increased less than 200 per cent.

Today, the cost of services maintained by governments and duplicating either each other or private business is as long as your arm.

In many cases they are maintained at the expense of, and in competition with, private enterprise. This in turn, reduces employment and decreases taxes revenue which would otherwise be collected from more prosperous concerns.

Every government service of this nature multiplies and begets others. Many of them, in an effort to justify their existence, pour out bulletins and publications that are never read.

The Dominion Government alone puts out more than nine million copies of various publications each year.

The costs run into millions of dollars. Some of these chronicles are of value. But a large number could be dropped without a single tear being shed.

Now, at long last, the public seems to be alive to the fact that over maintenance is bad for its system.

A start has been made in the right direction.

Throughout the country various public administrations have suddenly become aware of the fact that camels do not always meekly await the last straw that will break their backs.

Sometimes they kick.

And the pet schemes of many aldermen and Council members are being dropped in order that expenditures may be balanced with revenue.

A start has been made in the right direction. But only a start.

When the Dominion fiscal year ends March 31, it is likely to have a combined deficit (including railways) of from $110,000,000 to $120,000,000 in spite of Hon. Hugh Guthrie's hopeful forecast of a balanced budget on "Normal expenditures."

And still no real application has been given to the vital question of overlapping services and the major wastes.

Departmental estimates have been reduced, it is true, but when it comes to the only sort of operation that will save the patient, everything from the British North America Act to a railway time-table is held up as a reason why it can't be done.

It can be done.

It will be done just as soon as public opinion is audible enough to reach the political ear-drums.

Add your voice to the chorus. You're paying too much just to sit in the back seats.

—McLeans.

War Pictures

Many of our dailies are now publishing very realistic war pictures. These pictures, because printed on ordinary paper of the daily press, are somewhat crude, but we are told that they are true to life, that is to say, they are not imaginary pictures, such as one may find in the movies, but they represent true images of real conditions and of actual occurrences. After viewing a number of these pictures, we are impressed with the horror the cruelty, the shame, and the fearful suffering of war. That is exactly what the pictures are intended for.

These pictures serve as deterrents. People are to realize that war is the most terrible temporal judgment that God can bring upon a nation. If that is the purpose of these pictures, then it is well to publish them and to look upon them. Every Christian who sees them ought to offer a prayer to God that he would preserve us from war and bloodshed. War with its bloodshed is no trifle. In itself it brings upon the soldiers immediately engaged in suffering, such distress, and such misery that there are no words in any language sufficiently lurid and incisive to portray its pandemonium and horror. The very possibility of war should cause every person to cry to God to preserve us and our loved ones and our nation from its ravages. It is not for us Christians to advise the Government concerning armaments, navies, weapons of defense, no more than it is the duty of a Christian without medical training to advise an experienced surgeon what operations he is to perform and how he is to perform them. It is our duty to pray to God to have mercy upon our people and to ward off all calamities by fire and water and also to ward off bloody conflicts, war and pestilence. Let us not neglect this duty. Whenever you see these war pictures, breathe a prayer against war.

twelve full Colonels, thirty-two Lieut-Colonels, sixty-nine majors, ninety Captains and seventy-eight officers who wear the tab and gold lace of the staff officer."

These figures are surprising enough, but here is another excerpt from the article in the Canadian Magazine:

"In the middle of the war, December 31, 1916, Canada had 4,452 officers and 104,351 other ranks in France, so said Lieut-General Sir Arthur Currie in his report of 1918. In 1932, after fifteen years of peace, the Dominion had 5,226 officers and 34,300 other ranks in Canada."

"In the thick of the war, in the midst of the most desperate conflict ever waged, Canada had in the field one officer to every twenty-four men. Now in the days of peace she has one officer to every seven men."

Another statement is that Canada has disarmed the tank and file—she has only 3,300 men in her permanent force and 31,000 in the active militia, but senior officers abound. Today the chief of the general staff is a Major.

BANKING CREDIT IS AVAILABLE

Commercial loans in Canada, it is sometimes suggested, have shown a declining trend through restriction of credit by the chartered banks. The truth is that more banking credit is available than those directing sound enterprises are able or willing to employ.

This bank has not in the past, and does not today, withhold credit for legitimate and sound purposes.

It has had, and it has today, ample resources from which it is prepared to make loans.

Report Of Annual Meeting Of Wainwright Presbyterial

The Wainwright Presbyterial of Glory of Thy Name."

The United Church Women's Missionary Society convened in Tofield United Church on Tuesday, February 27th, with delegates from Wainwright, Irma, Holden, Ryley and Tofield in attendance.

Mrs. L. S. Reeds, of Irma, President of Presbyterial, presided at the morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. J. Ferguson, President of Tofield Auxiliary, gave the address of welcome and this was responded to by Mrs. Bosomworth of Holden.

The morning session was taken up with business and reports, and at its close the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed by the Rev. D. K. Allan, of Tofield.

In memory of Mrs. E. H. L. Thomas, of Wainwright, a memorial service in the form of a candle lighting ceremony was held during the afternoon session. Mrs. Reeds spoke feelingly of the wonderful charm and consecrated power of Mrs. Thomas' life; and asked that this Presbyterial, whose members felt so keenly the loss of that consecrated worker, should adopt her slogan—the keynote of her power—"Oh Mighty God Set Me Aflame to Show the

Mrs. Waashburn, of Wainwright, spoke on the Standards of the Oxford Group Movement, telling how wonderfully it had touched her life.

"God in the Normal" was the subject of a very interesting and helpful address by Mrs. A. D. Miller, of Edmonton.

At the close of the afternoon session the visitors were invited to a banquet given by the Tofield Auxiliary at which Mrs. J. Ferguson, president, Rev. Mr. Bosomworth brought the greetings of the Presbyterial. Mrs. Baptist brought greetings from the W. A. of the Anglican Church and Rev. Mr. Wallis spoke on behalf of that congregation.

Other speakers were Mrs. Bullock on behalf of C. G. I. T., Mr. J. Rogers for the season and Rev. D. K. Allan for the congregation of the United Church.

At the evening meeting, presided over by Rev. D. K. Allan, the C. G. I. T. presented a short play entitled "Disarm the Heart." Mrs. A. D. Miller again brought a stirring message for all, in an address on "The Creative Life, Solos by Mrs. A. Torrie and Mrs. L. W. The Results Of Faith

BY
REV. G. MAGNUS
WAINWRIGHT

"Now Faith is the Substance of things hoped for, the evidence (conviction) of things not seen." (Heb. 11:1)

We will consider some of the great promises made by the Lord to those who will believe in Him.

1. "He that believeth in Me shall not abide in darkness." (John 12:46)

How many souls are today in utter darkness! They know not whither they are going! There is no light ahead; all is dark. They are in darkness as to their own present need and danger. Still more desperate is their case, because in the words of the Lord Jesus, "they know darkness rather than light" (John 1:9). They do not want to know their true situation; they love to be in ignorance of their true state; like the ostrich they hide their heads in the sands of worldliness and folly, or are deceived with self-satisfaction and complacency.

He that believeth in the Lord Jesus shall not abide in darkness; as Paget Wilkes puts it "He that believeth, not he that determineth, willeth or straggles. No! No! Blessed words, be they without fear or doubt will in simplicity cast himself on the Saviour, shall know all about his own desperate case, know it not in fearfulness or condemnation, not in terror of the condemnation of God, but in self-acceptance, and in the 'Christic Joy of Penitence.' Bless God for such a Salvation!"

"Have we such Faith? Does our believing do this for us? If not, why not? God's promises stand true; there is no mistake there; the fault lies with our kind of believing."

There is a story told of a young man, he had never heard of God; the name of Jesus to him was unknown. In curiosity he wandered into a mission hall, looked around for five minutes, and, bored to death with what he had heard even in that short time, turned on his heel, and went his way. Behind the platform stretched a red banner inscribed in white lettering the words: "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest." As he read them he thought "what folly!" but the words remained.

A year passed by and found him in the greatest trouble; everything had gone wrong; and in utter darkness and despair he determined to take his life. Purchasing a bottle of poison, he climbed a range of hills running at the back of the city, and slipping down into the valley on the other side, he was preparing to take a leap into eternity, when, like a flash, the words he had seen a year since: "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest" entered the Egyptian darkness of his despairing heart.

He threw away the bottle, and, hastening home, came to the mission hall on the following day. There he learned the way of faith in Christ; that very day he abandoned his decision to take his life and instead determined to die unto sin. All the darkness disappeared before the light of life. "He that believeth in me shall not abide in darkness."

2. "He that believeth on Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." (John 11:25)

"How often have we seen this blessed promise abundantly fulfilled—dead souls instantly brought to life by faith in the Lord Jesus.

The death of sin is deeper than its darkness, though perhaps not more terrible; for if there is ignorance of danger and no sense of need, there can be no desire for salvation.

But the death of sin! Oh, no! to realize its meaning! He that believeth on Me often has I looked in imagination at two bodies, one living and strong and the other a corpse. I fancy I saw them lying in the rays of the summer sun. The one feels the thrill of life and comfort; the other feels nothing; the sun has the same power towards both; its rays of warmth touch both alike, but with what a difference. Cold and dead, the corpse makes no response, and feels nothing more than the stings on which it lies. What a picture is this of the living and the dead!

On the regenerate and the unregenerate alike falls the warmth of God's love; for "He is kind to the unthankful and to the evil; as well as to the good. The regenerate soul, alive and strong, feels it and rejoices in it with thankfulness and praise. But the unregenerate is unresponsive, unfeeling, and unthankful. He is dead; no chord within responds to the music of God's love; no interest beams in his eye; no smile plays upon the countenance of him who is dead in trespasses and sins when he hears of the love of God in Christ.

But faith in the Lord Jesus alters it all. Has our faith done this for us? Have we this kind of believing?

Thank God I have seen dead souls spring to life through faith in Christ passing out of death unto life, born again; 'Born from above; 'But as many as received Him, to them gave He power (authority) to become sons of God, even to them that believe on His Name: Which were born not of blood, nor the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.' "He that believeth on me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."

3. "He that believeth on Me shall never thirst." (John 6:35)

There is light and life through faith in the Lord Jesus, but there is more. There is a believing in Christ, which will bring perfect satisfaction. We need never thirst for pleasure or fame, or popularity, or ease or praise or money or things of the world! Never thirst! Blessed experience and all this through believing in Christ! Is our faith like that? Does believing do this for us? If not, why not? Is His promise untrue? Is He untrue? Verily say! The fault lies elsewhere. Surely it is we who have missed the meaning of that wonderful word "faith in Christ."

The verb is in the present tense; that is believing—a present-outgoing of our heart in faith towards the Lord Jesus. Where this is, there thirst exists no more. "He that drinketh (keeps drinking) of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst."

Why is it when God has given the spring of living water within, so many of us are thirsty still? Is it not, that we will not drink, will not keep on believing? Of what avail is it that we have the spring within, if we do not drink thereof, constantly and consciously in faith.

When John Paton—the pioneer missionary to the New Hebrides, was translating the Scriptures into this language of the people of the South-Sea, he had great difficulty in securing a word for faith; there seemed to be no equivalent in their language.

He made it a special matter of prayer, and one day one of his workers came in from a hard day's work, and leaning back in a lounge chair, said, "Oh, I'm so tired, I feel I must lean my whole weight on this chair." Praying God said Paton, "I've got my word. 'God' so loved the world that He gave His only-begotten Son, that whosoever leaneth his whole weight on Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life." Dear friend, lean on Him! He that leaneth his whole weight on Me shall never thirst."

4. "Thus saith He of the Spirit whom he that believeth in Him should receive." (John 7:39)

As Paget Wilkes puts it, "He that believeth in Me shall receive the Holy Ghost: This is a wonderful promise. The Holy Ghost through whom we have been awakened and born again, will come and make his abode within; we are the temples of the Holy Ghost. He makes His home and His sanctuary with us."

"Paul tells us that Christ was made a curse for us, that we might receive not only the blessing of Abraham (Justification) but the promise of the Spirit by faith—not by suffering or toiling; not by revelation or ecstasy; not by logic or understanding; but by believing. Christ suffered for us; He bled; He died; He was made sin for us; yes, all that, but more than that! Wonder of wonders! He made a curse for us, that we might receive the Holy Spirit! (Gal 2:20)

Are we conscious of our failure and need, and long for a fuller and larger life. Can we say with Paul 'I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me.' (Gal 2:20)

5. "He that believeth in Me, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living waters." (John 7:38)

Every regenerate one yearns with inexpressible desire to be useful to God. This is one of the early instincts implanted in a redeemed soul. Light, life, satisfaction, the indwelling presence of God, are wonders indeed; but we long to go out to others. Now this promise just meets our needs. He that is believing in Christ, keeps in believing, keeps it up actively, consciously, and expectantly,

Wedding Bells

BINGHAM - REDMOND

A wedding of interest to the localities of Chauvin and Edgerton, took place on March 1st, when Evelyn Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Redmond, Saddle Hill District, Edgerton, became the bride of Mr. Clyde Bingham, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bingham, of Edgingdale District, Chauvin.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the happy occasion. At the hour of two in the afternoon, strains of the familiar Bridal March from Loehring's could be heard. The officiating minister, Rev. W. Wright, of Chauvin, led the bridal procession to a lovely bower made of pink and white streamers. Following the Rev. Wright came Mr. Bingham, supported by the bride's brother, Mr. Albert Redmond. After they had taken their respective places Miss Margaret Bingham, sister of the groom, proceeded the coming of the bride, who entered upon her father's arm. There in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, these two young people took their solemn vows that made them one.

After a delicious wedding dinner had been served, the happy couple left for Chauvin from whence they went by train to Edgerton. After a short honeymoon trip they will be at home to their friends in the Chauvin District.

does find that from his heart there flows a stream of living water; rivulets it may be at the beginning, but as they run, broadening into rivers—a stream of Joy, a stream of Sympathy, a stream of Hope and Expectancy, a stream of Prayer—yes, who shall count or limit them, if we will but believe?

6. "He that believeth on Me the works that I do shall he do also." (John 14:12)

What wondrous things can faith in the Lord Jesus do! How short we find, how ashamed and humbled we ought to feel for our lack of power! It is blessed to have a constant sense of the love of Christ, to have God's indwelling presence and streams unconsciously flowing through and from our hearts, all through believing in the Lord Jesus. But there is even a greater promise to us. Oh, that we could rise to it, and claim our heritage in God!

The Lord has said, if we learn aright the secrets of believing, we shall be able to do what He has done—Works of love, works of healing, works of turning men from darkness to light—works of morning God's hand in answer to prayer; works of sacrifice. As Paget Wilkes puts it, "We have seen this in the Mission field." Some few stand out in my mind, who, as the friends of God, were able to do works by thus believing in Him. One I know more intimately perhaps than anyone else, in one of God's honoured servants. His eyes were opened; the barrenness and fruitfulness of his so-called theological training were unrolled. A great hunger sprang up into his heart for the knowledge of the true and living Christ. He left the "Cemetery" as he afterwards called it, and hastened away into the country, where through the ministry of the one who had awakened him, he found the secret of believing in the Lord Jesus. He was then he has been, but in one of God's honoured servants. His eyes were opened; the barrenness and fruitfulness of his so-called theological training were unrolled. A great hunger sprang up into his heart for the knowledge of the true and living Christ. He left the "Cemetery" as he afterwards called it, and hastened away into the country, where through the ministry of the one who had awakened him, he found the secret of believing in the Lord Jesus. He was then he has been, but in one of God's honoured servants.

In a theological college poisoned with the stupid vapourings of German theology, he one day saw and heard and felt the presence of Christ. His eyes were opened; the barrenness and fruitfulness of his so-called theological training were unrolled. A great hunger sprang up into his heart for the knowledge of the true and living Christ. He left the "Cemetery" as he afterwards called it, and hastened away into the country, where through the ministry of the one who had awakened him, he found the secret of believing in the Lord Jesus. He was then he has been, but in one of God's honoured servants.

As in John 10:10 where Jesus said, "I am come that they might have life abundantly." Oh! how good is God to provide such a way, to make it possible for all, if we will but humble our pride, seek Him with all our hearts and walk upon Him as one that watcheth for the morning. Shall we not put away our sloth. Shall we not examine ourselves whether we be in the faith—the faith once delivered to the Saints? Very much we may know and have experience, but shall we not determine to go on to a victorious, triumphant believing in Christ, and so inherit, and enjoy, and perform all that is possible here below to sinners saved by Grace?

The World's Great Handicap

In an address delivered recently at Watrous, Sask., Professor Swanson of the University of Saskatchewan, said he could see signs on the horizon of a return to economic sanity, but "fear" is in the way. He said: "International fear, political fear, biological fear, fear of Japan, economic fear. Life is overshadowed and overclouded with fear. The time has now arrived," he added, "to take place of leadership in our country, in overcoming these fears. On the Western plains there is no place for this fear."

Then in the United States we have Bruce Barton, one of the most observant and sanest writers of the day, pointing out that the economists seem pretty well agreed that the bottom of the depression has been reached and passed and that business is fundamentally better all over the world, while of his own country he says it is now in the position of a sick man on his way back to health; that while a great many medicines are being applied, some of which probably help the patient's recovery and some of which hurt, the important fact is that health is returning, and that the country can stand a considerable dose of patent medicines without permanent harm; and that when the country is really healthy it will throw the patent medicine bottles out of the window, discharge the most radical doctors, and go on its way.

Bruce Barton, however, points to two very important things for people to remember and heed. It is, he says, vitally important to keep an open mind. Things never again are going to be the same as they were; on the other hand, they are not going to be so entirely different as some enthusiastic people would have us believe. It is, he says, no use sighing for the return of the good old days; it is even less useful to assume that all the past was bad and must be discarded. His advice is: "Keep moderate; keep flexible."

Most important, says Bruce Barton, "fight all fear," and he urges that the words of Thoreau be placed where they can be seen every day: "Nothing is so much to be feared as fear. The sin that God hates is fear; He thinks atheism innocent in comparison."

It is undeniably true that fear is the great obstacle to a return to more normal conditions throughout the world. It is fear that prevents disarmament and continues to impose upon the taxpayers of the nations the crushing burden of huge armaments, navies, air fleets, and the whole complicated paraphernalia of war establishments. It is fear that leads nations to erect hostile tariffs against the goods and products of other nations. It is fear that is keeping untold millions of money locked up instead of it coursing through all the channels of business and providing work and wages for countless thousands at present unemployed. It is fear that is distorting the minds of people and making them the easy victims of others who preach the gospel of discontent and despair.

Fear never makes for progress. Being destructive of constructive thought and initiative, it acts as a brake on progress, preventing the launching of new enterprises, discouraging expansion and further developments. Through the engendering of timidity and lack of self-confidence, fear leads man to withdraw into himself and behind isolationist protective devices wherein he covers but does nothing else. In a word, fear makes him a coward with a coward's outlook on life and its responsibilities.

It is the future of which most people appear to be fearful. They decline to recognize and accept the lessons and experiences of the past as having any bearing upon or offering any guide for the problems and experiences of the present. Instead, in their fear, they say present difficulties are different from anything ever before known, and consequently neither they nor any other person or persons know what to do or what ought to be done.

So, in their fear, they will not take actions which would not only accomplish something but would inspire others to action, and the cumulative effect of which would be a solving of difficulties. Work would be provided for hundreds and thousands of people now idle if others having some reserves would take their courage in their hands and proceed to have this, that or the other little job done which demands attention. But, no, they will not venture even a small expenditure and thus they retard progress and help to perpetuate a condition of things which, if continued, will mean their own ruin.

Wise parents seek to overcome fear on the part of their children. They do it judiciously but persistently because they realize that the obsession of fear is the greatest possible handicap in life. Wise leaders of the Canadian people in all walks of life should join forces in waging war on fear which now possesses so many, and they should join battle with those who are engaged in capitalizing fear as an agency in the advancement of feelings of economic despair.

Saskatchewan Homesteads

Special Consideration To Be Given To Veterans Of The Great War

Granting special rebates to veterans of the Great War who served in an actual theatre of war, but also applying to all purchasers to the extent that free homesteads, are practically obtainable again in Saskatchewan, new land regulations, retroactive to 1929, will shortly be announced by the government. Under the new regulations all provincial lands for sale will be advertised without classification. Interest charges for 1933 and 1934 have already been forgiven and if conditions warrant, no interest will be charged in 1935. But, in any event, the rate will be cut to five per cent. Several thousand buyers will benefit.

Alberta's Greenhouses

Value Of Sales In 1931 Was Placed At $800,000

Though Alberta is thought of by most people as a country of wheat it has considerable space devoted to greenhouses. Alberta leads the other prairie provinces in this respect. The figures recently released at Ottawa show that in 1931 the province had some 645,000 square feet under glass in greenhouses not on farms, and in addition some 526,000 square feet under glass on farms. The value of the business done from these greenhouses in sale of flowers, flowering plants, vegetables and vegetable plants was placed at approximately $800,000. These figures indicate that the greenhouse business in this province is a fairly substantial one.

Fatal cases of influenza in England numbered much less in 1933 than in 1932.

Household Drudgery
The Bane of a Woman's Life

Nature intended women to be strong and healthy instead of weak and sickly, but how can a woman have good health when she has to go through the household drudgery without any relaxation. Is it any wonder she becomes nervous and irritable, has hot flashes, faint and dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sinking and smothering sensations, and can't sleep at night.

Women who are weak and run down will find in Milburn's H. & N. Pills a remedy to strengthen the system and bring back the much desired health.

Act May Be Revised

Amendment Of Canadian Constitution Is Now Under Consideration

Revision of the Canadian Constitution, to bring it into harmony with present-day conditions, is under consideration by the federal authorities. Tremendous changes in the business and social life of the Dominion have occurred since the British North America Act was drafted and while Sir John A. Macdonald and the other Fathers of Confederation are rated among the greatest statesmen the country has produced, it is now recognized they could not foresee all the developments of the last half century or more.

There are many ways in which the federal and provincial jurisdictions apparently clash, including radio, aviation, insurance, companies acts and other matters which were not contemplated when the B.N.A. Act was framed.

Amending the constitution, if it comes, will be brought about by an address of both Houses of the Parliament of Canada to the Parliament of the United Kingdom. Consent of the provinces is not absolutely necessary, but the government of Canada would hesitate to seek changes without the consent of the provinces.

Revision of the constitution would be a task requiring considerable study, and it is suggested here that the matter, might, very well be referred to a special committee of the senate, which is singularly well equipped with legal talent.

Answering Hurry Call

Firemen Were On Their Way But

Forgot Address

From a member of the faculty of Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville we have heard about the shock a Scarsdale family had one night about a quarter past eleven. Mum and Daddy and the kiddies had all gone to bed when they heard the screeching and rumbling of fire-engines. The husband just turned over in bed, but the wife got up and went to the window. She saw three or four fire-engines standing practically at her curb, puffing and chugging. And suddenly her doorbell rang. Shouting at her husband (who still didn't get up), she threw something about her shoulders and went down and opened the door. "Can I use your phone, lady?" asked a big fireman standing there. "Yes," she said. "Where's the fire?" "Gotta and we're said, brushing past her, "We'll forgetta address."—The New Yorker.

Wingless Rooster In

Smithsonian Institution

Only Case Known To Science Where Such Birds Have Lived

A wingless rooster recently received by the Smithsonian Institution has added precedents established by fowls that have been hatched without wings heretofore by living to grow into healthy adulthood minus the customary appendages. In all other such cases known to science the wingless birds have died while still young chicks.

The present specimen was found in the flocks of Mrs. Otto Deering, of Rose Hill, Ky., who sent it to the institution. Its behavior seems to be normal in most ways, but it is afraid to jump, that is, it will not bobble an ordinary chicken. It hesitates a long time, for instance, before jumping from a table to the floor to obtain food, even when it is very hungry.

Frenchman Predicted Photograph Long Before It Became

Reality

Admirer of Theophile Gautier, the great French romanticist, point out that he foreshadowed the photograph many years before it became a reality. In 1847 Gautier wrote in La Presse: "One day it will be possible to make a polished plate receive and preserve the vibrations of sound, and thus conserve and perpetuate a melody by Marlo, a trade by Rachel, or a coquet by Frederic Lemaitre. Thus we shall be able to keep hanging on the wall, the serenades of Don Pasquale, the imprecations of Camille, the love declarations of Ruy Blas—records of an evening when the artist is in good form."

Husband: "I certainly was. I expected you to be reasonable."

In Times Of Emergency

Central Bank May Not Have Emergency Of Finance Act

Present and future ministers of finance will have a fairly rigid advisory body to "aid" them when the new Central Bank is established and operating. But those of them who are individuals may find, in moments of crisis, that the central bank will hamper them in working out the best solutions of emergency situations. During the war, Sir Thomas White gave Canada's affairs, a financial direction that was masterly. He sought and obtained advice from the best possible sources but having no permanent advisory body to bother him he was not tied down to conformity to their prejudices and reticence.

Likewise, the Finance Act to-day has an elasticity about it that greatly helps the Minister of Finance in meeting the country's financial problems.

There is a classic story about the Westerner to whom Sir Sam Hughes offered a commission. The war minister asked this man if he wanted to join the infantry or the cavalry. The reply was "The infantry. When we get into trouble I don't want to be hampered with no horse."

In days to come many a finance minister, facing conditions such as those exist to-day, may wish that he were not hampered by "no horse."—Financial Post.

Worse Than Pestilence

Alarming Increase In Number Of Motor Car Fatalities

That the automobile is a destructive and death-dealing machine is again indicated by the appalling number of fatalities in the United States due to motor accidents. Figures compiled by an insurance company show that 28,900 Americans were killed in auto mishaps last year; and while this is only a small increase over the total for 1932, the alarming fact is revealed that the death list was proportionately a good deal higher.

Thus it is pointed out that the death rate of fatalities to the number of accidents has increased nearly six per cent, and that the increased number of deaths occurred despite the fact the total auto registrations and gasoline consumption had dropped.

The annual death toll exacted by the motor car both in Canada and the United States should occasion serious thought. If some pestilence were sweeping the country we would organize all our forces to check it. We should not sit idly by and accept the frightful auto death toll as one of the inescapable hazards of modern life.

Apricot Custard Tarts

1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1 cup mashed stewed apricots
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon Benson's Corn Starch
1 cup scalded milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons sugar
2 egg whites.

Mix and sift together the first quantity of sugar, the salt and corn starch, then gradually add hot milk and cook in double boiler until thickened. Add well beaten yolks and cook for a minute longer. Stir in the vanilla and cook. Pour the mixture into previously baked tart shells and cover with meringue made by adding the cold stewed apricots mixed with the second quantity of sugar and the lemon juice to the stiffly-beaten whites of the eggs, and beating until the mixture holds its shape. Brown slightly in a rather hot oven.

Producing Poultry Meat

Experiments at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, have shown that it takes 28 1/2 pounds of mixed grain to grow a broiler cockerel to twenty-six weeks of age, weighing an average of 6.68 pounds. That is, with a good class of Barred Rock chicks, 4 1/2 pounds of grain can be converted into one pound of meat. The lighter breeds consume an average of six pounds of feed for each pound of gain in meat.

Unsinkable Lifeboats

Many Devices Used Make Them Expensive To Build

"Wonder-boats" is a description that has possibly not yet been applied to the craft of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, yet it is not inappropriate. In the Institution's fleet are boats that can free themselves of water as rapidly as it comes on board. They can keep afloat when every one of the watertight compartments has been damaged and open to the sea.

If capsized they can right themselves and empty out all water in 23 seconds, and in the case of motor-propelled boats, continue running when the engine-room is flooded. I was given these facts when I talked to Lieut-Colonel C. R. Satterthwaite, secretary of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, about the boats that during the last few days have saved many lives from the fury of the easterly gales, states a London newspaper special representative. I also learned how it is that a boat full of water can immediately empty itself.

"On the bottom of most boats is our Fleet and on the sides of some of the latest models," said Colonel Satterthwaite, "are relieving valves or scuppers. These only allow the water to pass one way. As fast as the sea fills the cockpit of a lifeboat it is automatically emptied out at the bottom or sides. That is perhaps not the most remarkable feature of lifeboat construction.

"Not many people know that a lifeboat can have twenty holes knocked in each side, and yet still be able to go on with air work. This is due to the fact that a lifeboat is divided into from seven to fourteen watertight compartments, and has from 70 to 160 air cases. These air-cases made her practically unsinkable, and a boat can be kept afloat by these even when each of the watertight compartments is open to the water. In view of these devices it is hardly surprising, perhaps, that the modern motor lifeboat costs from $3,500 to $9,000."

A PLAN TO CURB MASS BUYING IS SUGGESTED

Ottawa.—A national control council to curb mass buying by chain and department stores and unfair, unethical business practices was proposed to the "Stevens" committee of the house of commons by George Hougham of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Retail Merchants' Association.

After describing big-buying organizations as a social menace to Canada as a whole, the Toronto official suggested a federally-controlled council to supervise industries generally. With each industry would be a board, again supervised by the Dominion in the interest of the consumer, to establish fair trading codes and enforce wage and hour regulations.

A picture of misery and destruction left in the wake of mass buying and mass advertising by chain and department stores was painted by Warren K. Cook of Toronto before the committee.

In a many-sided indictment against department stores, Mr. Cook, president of the Canadian Association of Garment Manufacturers, charged they drove legitimate manufacturers out of business through what he termed "unscrupulous competition." They placed trickery and misleading advertisements in newspapers. They stole the styles and models of importers and manufacturers, handing them over to their own factories. Through feature sale advertising they drove down prices, "flooding the purchaser by offering a bait to the few to make a profit from the many."

Hon. H. H. Stevens, chairman of the committee, indicated auditors were at work on department store books and would be called before the committee later. He made only a passing reference to them.

General Election In Alberta Is Forecast

May Be Called Soon After Present Session Closes

Calgary.—A general provincial election in Alberta, to be called soon after the close of the present session of the legislature, is forecast in a story published by the Calgary Albertan.

A cabinet shake-up immediately following the present session; continuance of a non-committal policy in regard to the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation throughout the present session, and a general election campaign with one faction standing on a platform of social legislation on a wide scale and of urging drastic changes in the British North America act are forecasts contained in the Albertan story.

Air Route To Canada

Direct Route Via Newfoundland Under Study By British Government

London.—A direct air route to Canada via Newfoundland is under study by the British, Canadian and Newfoundland governments, the house of commons was told by Sir Philip Sassoon.

Sir Philip, under-secretary for air, presenting the air estimates, resubmitted an entirely new project for which a provision of $50,000 is contained in the estimates is a weekly service between New York and Bermuda, in which Imperial Airways and American interests will co-operate.

Sir Philip also said it was hoped to have the British-Australia service in operation by the autumn.

Theft Of Gold

London.—A modern miracle was discovered at a London bank. Bank attendants opened a box which contained 930 fine ounces of gold, worth $52,500, when it left Cape Town, South Africa, Feb. 18. The box still weighed 630 fine ounces but its value had dropped to $239—figuring the box itself worth $230. The box contained cement.

Binder Twine Guarantee

Edmonton.—The total sum outstanding at the end of 1933 on binder twine guarantees, given by the provincial government, was $47,620, according to information given the Alberta legislature by Hon. R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer, in reply to questions asked by A. P. Mitchell (Lib., Leduc).

Lord Aberdeen Dead

Came To Canada As Governor-General In 1888

Edinburgh.—The Marquess of Aberdeen and Temair, 87, former governor-general of Canada, died at his residence, the House of Cromar at Tarradale, Aberdeenshire.

John Campbell Hamilton Gordon, first Marquess of Aberdeen (created 1915), was governor-general of the Dominion from 1890 to 1898. He succeeded by his son, the Earl of Haddo.

His marriage with the former Isabel Marjoribanks, who arrives, was also held up as a remarkable example of domestic felicity. She was an active partner in all his endeavors.

Before going to Canada, Lord Aberdeen had been lord high commissioner to the general assembly of the Church of Scotland and lord-lieutenant of Ireland. He returned to Ireland in 1900 and occupied the post again for 10 years.

To Correct Abuses

Want Investigation Of Livestock Industry In Ontario

Toronto.—The agriculture committee of the Ontario legislature moved to correct alleged abuses in packing plants and stockyards. Without a dissenting voice, the committee passed a resolution asking the Stevens committee at Ottawa to thoroughly and immediately investigate the whole livestock industry of the province.

Numerous complaints were presented to the committee by drovers, claiming there was no competition among buyers at the stockyards, that large firms' buyers refused to bid against each other, that bids were cut after the market closed, that the bulk of shipments went direct to the abattoirs without being subject to bidding, and that handling charges were so heavy the farmer's return dropped below cost.

Uncover Arsenal

Illegal Distribution Of Arms And Munitions In Montreal

Montreal.—A body bold at illegal distribution of arms and munitions to criminals in Montreal was struck by provincial police in an important raid. They seized 28 loaded revolvers, 1,000 boxes of cartridges, five rifles, three shotguns, 20 daggers, 25 blackjacks and a number of axes in a house in suburban Outremont.

Three months of careful investigation into underground circulation of deadly weapons were climaxed by the raid. Chief Louis Jarguile of the detective department, provincial police, said. A man, declared to be a leading figure in Montreal underworld, was in the house at the time police descended upon it and was placed under arrest. His name was withheld pending arraignment.

Quota For Cattle

Western Livestock Promoter Sees Disaster Ahead For Market

Calgary.—Canada's quota of 20,200 head of cattle for shipment to the United Kingdom will be exhausted long before the six months' time limit expires, in the opinion of Jack Byers, Western livestock expert.

First set at three months, the quota was extended to six, following protests of Western stockmen. Up to the present the number of cattle shipped from Canada totals 8,541 head of which Western Canada sent 3,114 head. During the same period a year ago shipments from the Dominion aggregated 4,798 head.

Mr. Byers sees disaster ahead for Canadian markets if the United Kingdom market is closed to the Dominion exporters.

Fighting Insect Pests

British Guiana Starts Battle To Save Sugar Crop

Georgetown, British Guiana.—A grim battle between insects through which entomologists hope to eradicate the dread moth here pest which annually destroys large sections of British Guiana's sugar crop, has been started.

Thousands of parasites for which Dr. J. G. Myers risked his life through the jungles, swamps and rough waters, have been released on five British Guiana plantations, and it is hoped the pests that cost the colony's premier industry thousands of dollars yearly, will be annihilated. Release of thousands of "Amazon flies" was the final phase of the resistance back undertaken by Dr. Myers and his assistants.

International Distrust

Henry Ford Says Munition Makers Responsible For War

Pittsburg, Mo.—Charging that a small group of men were responsible for war through the manufacture of munitions and by fostering international distrust, Henry Ford thinks United States Senator William Borah "had the right idea" in his attack on the $500,000,000 United States Navy program and other army and navy construction.

"The people in general don't want war," said Mr. Ford, "but it has been forced on them by scheming munition makers looking for enormous profits through the sale of arms."

"I do not pay much attention to the talk about war for I have found out that there is not much I can do about it as an individual. Outlawing war depends upon the people. In the past they have followed the war makers. If we could get rid of the approximately 100 men responsible for wars in this world, the people would enjoy peace."

NEED A BETTER SYSTEM FOR HANDLING RELIEF

Ottawa.—Immediate action with a view to evolving a permanent system of handling unemployment relief and other pressing social problems is urged in a statement issued by the Canadian Council on Child and Family Welfare. The statement is an analysis of relief conditions now existing and a series of suggestions for the evolution of permanent measures of social aid to those unable to support themselves.

Any effective scheme of a permanent character, the statement says, must recognize frankly that many people now out of work can never be absorbed again in gainful employment and that unemployment insurance is not only not a cure for the present condition, but will fall short of meeting the problem on a long-term basis.

None-the-less, the council believes, unemployment insurance should be initiated at the earliest possible moment. It should be on a contributory basis and be actuarially sound. At the same time the present Dominion, provincial, and municipal relief organizations should be re-cast on efficient lines.

Cause of dependency, other than unemployment, such as sickness, accident, and old age, should be tabulated and insurance of a contributory character provided for relief in such cases. Other causes of dependency which can not be worked into an actuarial system would have to be met by a permanent system of direct relief.

To avoid the debilitating effect of living on relief a program of relief work should be launched. Establishment of those of the unemployed with experience in agriculture on the land, is urged. The statement says the industrialization of the country in recent years and the relief provided in the cities have caused a drift cityward and the establishment of a better equilibrium between urban and rural population demands careful attention.

Approves Sweepstakes For Hospital Purposes

Senate Passes Bill Which Now Goes To House Of Commons

Ottawa.—Legalization of sweepstakes for hospital purposes received the approval of the senate for the second time when the upper house of parliament passed Senator G. H. Barnard's bill on second reading. The vote was 40 to 23.

The measure now goes to committee of the whole in the senate, and when finally approved will come to the house of commons. Last year the senate passed a similar bill introduced by Senator A. D. McLean, but it met with overwhelming defeat in the house of commons.

The measure will go to the commons this year with the assurance of Premier R. B. Bennett that a wide open debate and a free vote with party lines withdrawn will be permitted. This assurance was given at the recent Dominion-provincial conference when Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec promised for the legislation of sweepstakes. Mr. Bennett, however, is personally opposed to the move.

Parachute Saves Student

Young Canadian Pilot Had Narrow Escape In England

Bishop Waltham, England.—A young Canadian student pilot, W. S. Soule, 21-year-old resident of Sudbury, Ont., taking instructions under an Austrian pilot named Hell, fell out of the plane while Hell was making a slow roll 4,000 feet up. His safety straps gave way as the plane was upside down.

"I fell at terrific speed," Soule said afterwards, "I did three somersaults, but then I was able to pull the ripcord of my parachute. It was perfectly horrible until the chute opened, but it answered beautifully and I came down comfortably, just missing some tall trees." He was none the worse.

Grading Hogs And Eggs

Regulations To Be Studied By Commons Committee

Ottawa.—The regulations for grading hogs and eggs will be studied by the commons committee on agriculture. S. H. Pickett (Cons., Bromfield-Mississippi), brought the matter before the house in a resolution asking that the grading laws be amended. After considerable discussion the house accepted the amendment of G. Stirling (Cons., Yale, B.C.) referring the question to the committee.

The government hog graders were often "pals" of the packers and favored their friends as against the farmers in grading the animals brought to the abattoirs, Mr. Pickett declared. The egg graders were also frequently against the farmers.

Prince Albert National Park

Recommend That Province Of Saskatchewan Eliminate Claim

Prince Albert.—Recommendation "that the province of Saskatchewan eliminate its claim insofar as it affects Prince Albert national park, as it is preferable the park be administered by the federal government," was sent to Regina after being approved by the local board of trade.

It arises from Saskatchewan's claim for compensation for alienation of land for the park. The Dominion countered before the probing commission in Ottawa by offering to hand the park over to the province.

NO AGREEMENT TO CONTROL HOG PRICES IN CANADA

Ottawa.—There is no agreement among meat packing firms to control hog prices in Canada, J. S. McLean, president of Canada Packers, told the house business inquiry. No efforts are made to curb prices for the simple reason the packers make more money on a rising market.

All day long, the Toronto head of the Canada-wide packing firm gave evidence before the committee investigating general labor conditions and business practices. His company will be investigated by auditors, the profits listed, salaries disclosed and the capitalization examined.

Canadian hog prices are dependent upon the English prices for bacon, set weekly at a conference in London, the committee was told. When bacon prices advance, hog prices climb, although only 10 per cent. of Canada's pork production is exported to the United Kingdom market. Canadian packers are not informed in advance of the English bacon price and often make a wrong guess on the trend.

From his 30 years' experience in the meat packing industry, Mr. McLean said no changes in marketing practices would increase by one dollar prices to the farmers. He could not agree with Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, and E. J. Young, Liberal member for Weyburn, that the practice of setting arbitrary differentials for lower grade hogs worked against the farmer. Nor could he agree with suggestions that all hogs be graded in stock yards and buyers permitted to take their pick in contrast to the present system of buying a cart of mixed grades and taxing the lower standards 50 cents to $2.50 a head.

The influence that has lifted hog prices in a year from $3.25 to $9.25 has been the steady outlet for bacon in the English market, Mr. McLean said. The reason Chicago prices were only about $4.50 was there was no foreign outlet for American bacon. And the same reason accounted for low prices for Canadian cattle—if a foreign market could be found for Canada's annual surplus of 100,000, prices would go up four or five cents a pound.

The packing official estimated the trade agreement negotiated between Canada and the United Kingdom at the Ottawa conference, placed $32,000,000 in the pockets of Canadian farmers last year through enhanced hog prices.

A conflicting picture of Canadian packers from a financial viewpoint was painted before the committee. In the first place, Mr. McLean said, "a very large profit" had been made in recent months because of increasing hog prices. Later he told of the firm paying a woman employee $11.80 for a 50-hour week, over a six-month period. The woman had three children and was supported and was forced to apply to city of Toronto for relief.

SMITH ACQUITTED BY JURY ON SEDITION CHARGE

Toronto.—After deliberating six hours and 15 minutes a jury here acquitted A. E. Smith, general secretary of the Canadian Labor Defense League, of a charge of seditious utterance involving Prime Minister R. B. Bennett. He was allowed to have charged the prime minister with ordering the shooting of Tim Buck, Communist prisoner at Kingston penitentiary, during the convict insurrections of 1932.

Smith, veteran Methodist church minister of Brandon, who discarded his clerical garb during the Winnipeg labor riots of 1919, slept on a wooden bench in a city hall jail cell during the last hour of the jury deliberations. Shortly after 6 o'clock he was aroused by sheriff's officers and led to the prisoner's dock in the assize court.

The foreman of the jury, who had led the 11 jurors back into court twice after the charge was made by Mr. Justice Hugh E. Ross shortly before noon pronounced the words "not guilty."

The prisoner at the bar, a 62-year-old Labor champion, heard the words with the same impassive expression he had maintained throughout the four-day trial.

There was no comment from the bench, none from J. McMurtry, K.C., who came from Winnipeg to defend the accused in the name of "free speech," nor from Peter White, K.C., who attacked the "malignity" behind Smith's alleged utterances.

A free man again, the defence league secretary walked across the court. Out in the hallway he was met by smiling defence counsel, among whom was Leo Gallagher, prominent Los Angeles barrister, who represented Marinus van der Lubbe in the reichstag fire trial in Berlin last year. He acted in an advisory capacity for Smith.

Listening to the evidence of the convict Communist were Smith's wife and auburn-haired daughter. Throughout the trial they occupied the front bench of the courtroom, directly behind the prisoner's box, watching, as intently as the middle-aged accused, the lengthy proceedings.

Rumors Of Coup

Startling Disclosures Are Made In Stavisky Case

Paris.—Three startling disclosures involving secret justice, the number of a prominent judge, and rumors of a coup d'etat were made by officials investigating the $40,000,000 pawnshop bond scandal of the late S. Stavisky.

Members of a parliamentary committee questioned Jean Chiappe, former prefect of Paris police, as saying former interior minister Eugene Frot planned a coup to gain the leadership of the government during recent riots that formed a bloody sequel to the Stavisky affair.

M. Frot categorically denied the allegations, which he described as "pure romance."

Another development was that police, in their efforts to find a "trail of higher-ups" in the swindle, studied the mysterious symbols Stavisky used to designate cheque stubs in his secret payroll.

The third was that police sought the "double of Judge Albert Prince, key man in the Stavisky investigation, who was slain between here and Dijon recently, in the belief that a man strongly resembling the murdered magistrate had arrived in Dijon instead of Prince.

Ottawa.—Dominion of Canada treasury bills to the amount of $15,000,000 were sold by public tender at what was believed to be the lowest interest rate on record for such short term financing. The bills were in two series, $2,450,000 for three months at an average cost to the government of 2.85 per cent., and $12,550,000 for eight months at an average cost of 3.12 per cent. Dated March 1, they mature June 1 and November 1.

dodging the water and mud to get the benefit of the beautiful day.

We are pleased to see J. W. Daugh-

Not very often illness gets the start of Bill, but he is not any too well
